News of the Boys in Service

Sammy Klass, son of Mr. and Mrs. Otto S. Klass, who entered the service at Fort Sheridan a week ago Monday, was home for the week-end. While waiting to be assigned to a station, he has been detailed to temporary duty in the post office at the Fort.

Capt. L. J. Zimmerman arrived home last week-end on sick leave from Gardner General hospital, Chicago, where he has been receiving medical treatment for arthritis, which brought about his return from overseas duty with the army a few months ago.

Pfc. John Kutz arrived Friday on furlough from Camp Van Dorn, for a visit with the Hilmens-Sherman family. He and his wife, the former Lucille Sherman, and their little daughter Luanne left during the week-end for Fort Dodge, Ia., to visit his relatives. Mrs. Kutz and daughter plan to stay in Fort Dodge for a time after Pvt. Kutz' return to duty.

T/Sgt. James F. Horan, former Antioch postmaster who has been serving overseas with an army postal unit since the time of the early African campaigns, has been enjoying an unaccustomed taste of luxury, according to a letter written to his brother John L. Horan from somewhere in Italy.

"My day off—I am in the Red Cross writing room around the corner from where we have set up shop. I have visited Rome and the Vatican—seen the Pope.

"This is some place—one could spend months around here and then not see it all. This place hasn't been touched, but the natives have very little food.

"This is a kind of a vacation around here. I feel fair—I felt much better and ate better when we lived in tents many miles from here. This case gets me I guess there ain't enough heat around here.

"We live not far from here in an apartment—glass, marble and hardwood—kitchen, two bath rooms, fine living rooms—not furnished. We all have cats. We eat with the outfit that we are attached to. I haven't seen the General yet. We put our feet under the table and they wait on us—ain't that something?"

"When we get to France it will be a little rough—maybe?"

He also forwarded a letter he had received from A. J. Tripp, Detroit, a veteran of the First World War, who commented:

"I was near the Med. area in 1919 after we were in the Army of Occupation. Went to a new leave area which had just been opened at Nimes, France. Was sent there on duty with a band. It sure was a great spot at the time. So far south that it hadn't been touched by the war.

"One battalion of my regiment was from East St. Louis. Quite a few are back in service. A couple were back from service with the new 33rd division."

Harry F. Quilty, SF 2/c, has been removed from Tiburon, Calif., to San Diego.

New Village Parking Lot is Considered

Council Is Negotiating for Lease on Thayer Lot at Main and Park

The providing of additional municipal parking space, and provisions to relieve traffic congestion in the business section of the village are the subject of plans now being carried out by the village council.

Negotiations are being carried on with Clarence Thayer of Oshkosh, Wis., for a lease on the lot adjoining the Antioch garage.

The possibility of leasing the lot for municipal parking space, in addition to that already in use at the village park, was discussed by village officials and Thayer when the latter was a visitor here during the July 4th holidays.

A number of the local business men have expressed their willingness to defray a portion of the cost of the lease, and the village will make up the difference, it is planned.

Congestion at P. O. Relieved

In order to relieve the traffic congestion on Main street at the post office and Bank corner, a portion of the east curb between Park and Ida avenues has been posted with "no parking" signs.

This measure appears to have relieved bad traffic conditions that resulted in several near-accidents recently, as it is now much easier for automobiles and trucks to pass, the village traffic officers report.

While it has taken away three or four parking spaces, these will be more than compensated for by the creation of a new municipal parking lot, village officials point out.

Lightning Strikes Zion Honor Roll; Soldiers Help Extinguish Fire

A sudden downpour of rain succeeding the light drizzle that had been falling intermittently during the day was the only local evidence of a storm that caused a freak fire in the Zion Bowling alleys Wednesday afternoon at 2:45 o'clock.

According to Elmer Bjurstrom, engineer of Company No. 114 of the Chicago Fire department, who with his family is vacationing at Petite Lake, and John L. Horan, former Antioch fire department member now employed in the makeup department of the Waukegan News-Sun plant, who visited the scene on their way here from Waukegan yesterday afternoon, the lightning struck the electric light sign over the Zion Honor Roll, following a conduit to the rear of the Zion Bowling alleys, adjoining, which were set afire.

The Waukegan fire department received a call to "stand by" in the event additional help was needed, but the blaze was quickly brought under control by the Zion department, which was aided by soldiers from Dunes park.

The Time Is Now!

Responsible authorities on both sides of the embattled Atlantic today agree that "Germany will fall with the leaves"—it not before. One enemy disposed of, we can turn the full force of our might to subjugation of the savage Jap.

The pattern for victory is as clear as the pattern for peace is not. Without for a moment letting up in our magnificent production for war we should and could be planning—and performing—for the postwar period, at this moment and every moment to come.

What, for instance, is to be done about the considerable government-owned real estate, plants, equipment and supplies after military requirements are satisfied?

To assist in the solution of serious problems of government policy involved in such disposition, the board of directors of the National Association of Manufacturers has adopted a statement of policy and specific proposals which hold that "the primary problems which should be considered are the military security of the United States and the provision of employment."

Maximum employment will not be created unless plants and equipment not needed for military purposes are used in private production at the earliest possible date.

No Tended Herds Here

Two prominent citizens, a high public official, and the head of a vital war industry which almost single-handedly saved the country from a critical magnesium shortage, give voice to opposing philosophies of government which confront the American people. OPA Administrator Chester Bowles, commenting on the possibility of returning to the freedom of prewar days, says: "The role of government must be greatly reduced after the war. . . . But . . . there is far too easy an assumption on the part of many that we have only to strip off controls and we'll go right back to all-time peacetime operations without a hitch. There are two things wrong with that view—it won't be easy—and we can't go back." He declared flatly that government must always play the "central role" in the economy. Dr. Willard H. Dow, president of the Dow Chemical Company, in urging prompt termination of government domination of the people after the war, pointed out that: "We are being warned against the dangers of freedom. . . . All of which is rot. We are being told that . . . we must ease out of controls and that chaos would follow their sudden ending. By the very nature of our present controls we cannot ease out of them. We can only ease into permanent control. . . . Whatever may be the seeming dangers of throwing off our controls, they are as nothing in contrast to the dangers of being merely a tended herd."

The people have accepted without a murmur government dictation because they believed it was necessary to the prosecution of the war. But officialism, having had a taste of supreme authority over the private citizen, and in spite of protestations to the contrary, wants to hang onto it as long as possible. Many persons apparently believe that continuance of dictatorial government is preferable to the risks of operating under a free economy. Their efforts can be seen in attempts to expand permanent government control over electric power, mining, oil, retail distribution, farming, and practically every other activity by which the American people have secured the highest standard of living and the greatest freedom for the individual of any nation in the world.

If ever a free people demonstrated the worthiness of their institutions, we have. No nation which believes in big government would ape, can show such progress, independence, and production, as the United States. When the choice must be made between the dangers of freedom or government dictation, the heritage of America leaves no alternative. We must choose freedom. We want no tended herds in this land.

"When there is news to be told, we shall tell it."
—Secretary of War Stimson, on invasion rumors.

"Industry's part in the (veterans) rehabilitation program offers an unexcelled opportunity for enlightened management to assume one of its much-talked-of and little defined social responsibilities."—Robert M. Gaylord, pres., NAM.

"The high cost of 'cheap money' would make a good headline."—Lewis Haney, Prof. of Economics, New York University.

"It was freedom to sell, to expand, to pioneer, to invent, to invest, which gave America the plant capacity to become the arsenal of democracy in this war."
—Walter D. Foller, pres., Curtis Publishing Co.

THE OLD JUDGE SAYS...

"Mary and I were just saying, Judge, how lucky we are here in America that we have so many natural resources to help win the war."

"That's right, Jim. When war broke out we had oil, we had steel, we had food, lumber, aluminum. . . . practically everything we needed. There's one thing we didn't have. . . . rubber. The enemy had that."

"But that didn't bother us for long. Soon American brains and industry had synthetic rubber by the tons rolling out of plants. That filled a critical need. . . . you can't win a war without rubber."

"I was very much interested the other day in reading a statement made by a high government official on synthetic rubber. In it he said 'It is fair to regard the rubber manufactured to date as being almost solely the product of the beverage distilling industry.'"

"He also said that, in his estimation, the tremendous contribution of distillers' industrial alcohol to the synthetic rubber program had not received the recognition which it deserves."

"We certainly learned something today; didn't we Mary?"

Name Chocolate

Mexican Indians gave the name "chocolate" (from "choco," meaning foam, and "atl," water) to the beverage they made by grinding cocoa seeds, mixing them with water, and beating the mixture to a froth. From them we get the word "chocolate."

This is no time to lose your memory!

IN NEARLY ALL Americans there's a streak of natural optimism.

We know the war won't be over tomorrow. We know there may be a long hard fight ahead.

But we can't help looking forward to the beautiful and wonderful-seeming days of Peace.

This is all right unless...

Unless it makes you relax your efforts to win the war...

Unless it makes you lose your memory of what happened after the last war was won.

Don't lose that memory now. Don't forget the depression... the poverty that hit the farmers... the breadlines in the cities... the soldiers looking, looking, looking for jobs, and not finding them.

Remember that Peace brought difficult economic problems, economic stresses. And this time, we must be ready to meet them.

This time we must make sure of having a real financial cushion... to ease the transfer to normal peacetime business, peacetime employment, peacetime living.

That's one big reason why you should buy War Bonds... and hold on to them.

Every War Bond you buy, every one you hold to maturity will keep bringing you $4 for every $3 you invest today.

And that steady flow of buying power will make jobs. It will create markets for peacetime goods. It will do a lot to insure an America that's prosperous and sound... the kind of America we all want when this war is won.

So let's not forget the lesson of World War I. Keep buying Bonds. Keep hanging on to them. They're your security... your Country's security... for the days of Peace!

Helen Lubkeman Becomes Bride of Lt. Harley Sholliff

Of interest both here and in Wilmet was the quiet ceremony at which Miss Helen Lubkeman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. August Lubkeman, became the bride of First Lt. Harley E. Sholliff in a quiet ceremony, Sunday afternoon at the Lubkeman home on North avenue.

Lt. Sholliff, who has seen action on the African, Sicilian, Italian and Normandy fronts, arrived home recently to spend a 30-day furlough with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Sholliff, Wilmet.

Only immediate relatives of the couple were present at the wedding, at which the Rev. Rudolf P. Otto, pastor of Peace Lutheran church, Wilmet, officiated.

As she was presented in marriage by her father, the bride wore an aquamarine suit with black and white accessories and a corsage of red roses, white gladioli and yellow daisies.

Miss Elfreida Vetter of Forest Park, Ill., who was her bridesmaid, wore an orchid print frock with peach-color and white accessories. Her corsage was similar to that of the bride, as were those worn by the mothers of the bride and bridegroom. Richard Schmitt, Chicago, who also recently returned from overseas, where he had served for the past 16 months, acted as best man.

A reception for immediate relatives was held in the Mortensen hotel, where a wedding supper for 17 was served. Lt. and Mrs. Sholliff left afterward on a two weeks' honeymoon trip to northern Wisconsin.

The bride is a graduate of Antioch Township High school and a graduate registered nurse at Garfield Park Community hospital, Chicago, where Miss Vetter is also a nurse.

Lt. Sholliff is a graduate of Union Free High school, Wilmet. Before entering the army air corps in 1940, he was employed by the Carey Electric and Plumbing company in Antioch.

A surprise shower honoring the bride was held by Mrs. Emil R. Lubkeman and Mrs. Inga Taubel last Friday evening in the home of Joan Gist, Petite Lake park. "Take Care of Your Back" was the subject of another talk.

Roll call was answered with responses on the general topic, "What I have learned through my 4-H project work this year."

Joan Gist gave a talk, entitled "Walk Tall," and Joan Anderson one on "Sit Tall."

A demonstration of table setting was given by Joan Anderson and Joan Gist.

Magda McCaw spoke on her experiences in crossing the ocean, in 1936.

"Keep Fit" exercises were demonstrated by Betty Mae Erickson and Beverly Hansen. A talk on "Etiquette" was given by Colleen Ireland. The preparation of a cottage cheese salad was demonstrated by Lenore Hansen and Magda McCaw.

Refreshments were enjoyed afterward.

The Cedar Lake 4-H club sponsored an "Achievement Program" at the Cedar Lake school last evening.

FDR-Truman Top '44 Slate Of Democrats

Platform Stresses International Post-War Organization for Peace.

By GEORGE A. BARCLAY

Amid historic demonstrations acclaiming his 12-year record in the White House and the promise of his future service, President Roosevelt was renominated for a fourth term by the Democratic national convention in Chicago.

Only one ballot was necessary to give the President 1,086 votes. Senator Harry F. Byrd of Virginia received 89 votes, his support coming chiefly from Southern delegations who registered a protest against the fourth term and the New Deal. James A. Farley, former national committee chairman and manager of Mr. Roosevelt's first two campaigns, received one vote. His name had not been placed in nomination.

In one of the most hotly contested battles for the vice presidential nomination in the history of the party, Sen. Harry S. Truman of Missouri, whose chairmanship of the senate committee investigating the war program had won him national recognition, captured the position. The Missourian won on the second ballot when he overcame a long lead piled up by Vice President Henry A. Wallace on the first poll.

A crowd which jammed every seat and flowed over into the aisles and galleries of the Chicago Stadium cheered the President's acceptance speech which he delivered by radio from an undisclosed Pacific coast naval base, whither he had arrived from a cross-country trip. The President described this journey as "in the performance of my duties under the Constitution." Senator Samuel D. Jackson of Indiana, permanent chairman of the convention, introduced the President.

Mr. Roosevelt's acceptance speech, outlining the future as he saw it, and stressing the necessity of planning for forthcoming eventualities, Mr. Roosevelt declared:

"The war waits for no elections. The people of the United States," he added, "will decide this fall whether to turn this 1944 job — this worldwide job — to inexperienced and immature hands, to those who opposed lend-lease and international co-operation against forces of aggression and tyranny until they could read the polls of popular sentiment, or whether they wish to leave it to those who saw the danger from abroad, who met it head-on and who now have seized the offensive and carried the war to its present stages of success."

No. 1 item in the President's analysis of "the job before us in 1944" is the fast and overpowering victory over the Axis. Next is the formation of an international organization which would make future wars impossible, and third is the building of a firm economy for returning veterans of the war.

Concise Platform
President Roosevelt's desire for a concise platform was fulfilled when the convention ratified by acclamation the 1,500-word document presented by the resolutions committee. It was one of the shortest in modern times, with most of its planks single sentences.

Chief interest centered in the platform's declaration for a postwar international organization based on sovereign equality and with power to use armed forces if necessary to preserve peace.

On the race question, the platform declared:

"We believe that racial and religious minorities have the right to live, develop and vote equally with all citizens and share the rights that are guaranteed by our constitution. Congress should exert its full constitutional power to protect those rights."

The platform urged steps promoting the encouragement of risk capital and new enterprise and promised special attention to the natural resources of the west. It urged reduction or repeal of wartime taxes as soon as possible.

Relaxation of wartime controls at the earliest possible moment was promised, along with a pledge of special aid to small business and a declaration against monopolies, cartels "or any arbitrary private or public authority."

For agriculture, the platform pledged: price guarantees and crop

Convention Briefs . . .

WEATHER FAVORS DEMOCRATS: Unseasonably cool weather prevailed all through the week of the convention, but skies were clear, except for a few fleecy white clouds. Temperatures were almost uncomfortably low at night.

DIRTY WORK: Some bold pick-pocket took a deputy sheriff's badge and a wallet containing $76 from Albert Adams, delegate from Livingston, Calif., while crowds were cheering for Roosevelt.

Campaigns for Fourth Term

FRANKLIN DELANO ROOSEVELT

Cooper of Tennessee, 22. Vice President Wallace had received 429½ votes on the first ballot, compared to Truman's 310½.

Mr. Wallace was quick to congratulate the winner and urge his support. "My own defeat is not a loss to the cause of liberalism," he said. "That is obvious in what happened here at the convention."

Following his nomination, Mr. Truman was escorted to the platform amid the cheers of the overflow crowd. In a speech lasting hardly a minute, he said he would continue his efforts "to help shorten the war and win the peace under the great leadership of President Roosevelt," and then, stating that he did so "with humility," he accepted the nomination.

Those suggested for the nomination, in addition to Truman and Wallace, were: Sen. Scott S. Lucas of Illinois; Supreme Court Justice Frank Murphy; Gov. J. M. Broughton of North Carolina; Gov. Robert S. Kerr of Oklahoma; Paul V. McNutt of Indiana, War Manpower commissioner; Sen. John H. Bankhead of Alabama; Sen. Alben Barkley of Kentucky; Gov. Prentice Cooper of Tennessee; Sen. Joseph C. Mahony of Wyoming; and Sen. Elbert Thomas of Utah. Added starters were Gov. Herbert O'Connor of Maryland and Sen. Claude Pepper of Florida, who were put in the race by first-ballot votes.

Political observers were definite in their belief that Truman would strengthen the Democratic national ticket. They pointed out that in choosing the Missourian the party had a candidate whose voting record in the senate has been consistently pro-Roosevelt and friendly to labor. The fact that Truman is a veteran of World War I, with a distinguished record, is likewise regarded as a strong asset. That he is acceptable to labor was indicated by the action of Sidney Hillman, chairman of the CIO Political Action committee, one of Wallace's chief supporters, who declared that Truman was "satisfactory to his group. In the South, Truman likewise should attract support. It was southern delegations which started the Truman stampede that culminated in his nomination."

Gov. Kerr's Keynote.
Unusual interest had focussed on the keynote speech delivered by Gov. Robert S. Kerr of Oklahoma, for it was the first time the Westerner had faced a national party meeting.

Veteran convention attendees were agreed that the Oklahoma man's performance ranked high among such performances in their memory. Caustic in his denunciations of the opposing party and fervent in his praise of the Roosevelt administration, Governor Kerr brought cheers from the delegates time after time.

Enunciating traditional party doctrine, he declared that the election of a Republican administration this year would bring about "the certain return of 1932" and would "invite disaster."

Robert E. Hannegan, national chairman, told the delegates and guests that "the fortunes of war have been too hard to win to be gambled away in the inexperienced hands of a new commander-in-chief."

The increasingly important role of women in national politics was emphasized at the convention. Three women in particular were in the spotlight: Dorothy Vredenburg, secretary of the national committee; Mrs. Charles W. Tillet of North Carolina, assistant chairman of the convention; and Mrs. Helen Gahagan Douglas of California.

From the same spot where Congressman Clare Boothe Luce had spoken three weeks before to the Republican convention, Mrs. Douglas delivered one of the major addresses of the convention.

Insurance; farm parity with labor and industry; steps to foster the success of the small independent farmer; aid for the ownership of family-sized farms; broader markets; extension of rural electrification.

Continuation of the administration's policy of full benefits for ex-service men and women with special consideration for the disabled was promised.

"We make it our first duty to assure employment and economic security to all who have served in the defense of our country," the platform added. The labor plank pledged the enactment of additional legislation as experience may require, including amendments or repeal of any law which has failed in its purpose.

Barkley's Tribute.
Dramatic scenes accompanied the nominating speech by Senator Alben Barkley of Kentucky. President Roosevelt's service, he said, is a "record of achievement in national and international affairs so amazing and successful that his friends proclaim it and his enemies dare not threaten it with destruction."

Senator Barkley's address precipitated a demonstration which lasted more than half an hour. This was followed by four seconding speeches.

Truman became a bandwagon candidate after southern states which had scattered their votes between Senator Bankhead of Alabama, Senator Barkley of Kentucky, and a long list of favorite sons began to switch their votes to Truman.

Preconvention interest had centered on this contest for the vice presidency and excitement mounted as the three-day meeting progressed. While the delegates had before them President Roosevelt's statement that he would vote personally for Mr. Wallace if he were a convention delegate, they also were informed that he likewise thought Senator Truman—or Supreme Court Justice William O. Douglas—would add strength to the ticket that will oppose the Republicans' Thomas E. Dewey and John W. Bricker.

The official tabulation of the second ballot for the vice presidency, taken on the evening of the convention's third day, after more than four hours of oratory was: Truman, 1,076; Wallace, 68; Justice William O. Douglas, 4; and Gov. Prentice Highlights . . .

CROONING GOB: Danny O'Neill, a former sailor on the USS Lexington, who was honorably discharged and is now singing professionally, led the convention in the "Star Spangled Banner" on Thursday night.

CROWD: The largest crowd in the history of the Chicago Stadium packed the big building on the convention's second night. It was estimated at between 25,000 and 30,000, far beyond capacity.

News of the Boys . . .

Antioch are well and in the best of health, and I would like to thank you for sending the Antioch News to me. "Since I came overseas, the News hasn't caught up to me and I sure miss it."

"When I was a civilian, I'll admit, I only looked at the front page, but since I've been in the service I don't think I have missed a single sentence in your paper. Furthermore, all my buddies have been reading it."

"Wishing you all the best of luck. Don't forget to leave a few fish in the lakes around Antioch for me."

Pvt. Donald Gibbs arrived home Tuesday on furlough from San Diego, Calif., where he has been in training with the marine corps. He will leave today or tomorrow to report for duty at Camp Pendleton.

Otto Hanke and Raymond Hills will report Monday for service in the armed forces.

Willis Griffin, MM 2/c, is now on sea duty, with a New York fleet post office address.

Sgt. Peter P. Smith has been added to the San Francisco APO list.

Pvt. Nick Hilbert has been assigned New York army post office No. 9. He was formerly employed at the Antioch Milling company.

Pvt. Ralph Dowell, Channel Lake, may now be reached via San Francisco APO No. 565.

Cpl. Peter De Sario may be addressed via San Francisco APO 937.

Edward T. Lynch, former resident of Antioch who lived on the farm east of the Soo Line depot, has been assigned to New York APO 15180.

"Taking the opportunity to give you a change of address, as I have been transferred," writes Ben Noble, CMOH, care of the New York fleet post office. Noble, who with his family lived in a cottage at Cross Lake, is a member of the Antioch American Legion post.

It's now Corporal Morris P. Verkest. Cpl. Verkest has been transferred from Camp Haan, Calif., to Camp Howze, Texas.

A/C Lars Steffenburg is at Shaw Field, Sumter, N. C.

Mrs. Arthur Meyer of Channel Lake has submitted the following poem in memory of a buddy of her husband's from Maywood, Ill. —

IN MEMORIAM

TO BOB

He gave his all to win this war. He knew what it was we're fighting for.

Three years are long, but he hadn't forgotten. That little store and the sodas he'd gotten.

The narrow street and the house by the side. The big front porch and the room inside.

You couldn't help but love that boy. His smile would fill your heart with joy.

Complaining was something he never knew. He took his place in this battle too.

We did what we thought was helping him. And he gave his LIFE to help US win.

"Dear Friends," writes Pvt. John N. Brackney from "somewhere" in France, "I thought I would give you my new address, so that you would know where I am. Yesterday I received three of the Antioch newspapers."

"I have been traveling around quite a bit, but have not run into anybody from Antioch. I see by the paper that Capt. David N. Deering, Lt. Orville Winfield, Pvt. Edward Walter Paske, Cpl. John V. Dahl, S/ Sgt. Oliver G. Johnson, Ed. Baumann, Bob Hunt, Don Iloman and Ed Simonsen are somewhere in England. I sure would have liked to meet some of the boys while I was in England, but I did not have the luck to.

"This country is the land of mud and rain, K-rations and fox holes. The people over here seem pretty nice, but I have not been able to learn the French language. If we want something, we have to use the sign language, and then sometimes you don't get what you want."

"From what I read in the paper, it seems that Antioch is going to be a lot different town when we come back than it was when we left it."

"Everything over here is beginning to settle down for a long, steady grind now."

"If it keeps up like it is now, we will be in Paris before long."

LT. ORVILLE WINFIELD RECEIVES OAK LEAF CLUSTER

Second Lt. Orville Winfield, 22, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Winfield, Bristol, has received an oak leaf cluster to the air medal, according to word received by his parents from England, where he has been based during the latter part of April.

Lt. Winfield, who is a graduate of the Pikeville school and Antioch Township High school, enlisted in the army air force two years ago this August, and left for primary training in San Antonio, Tex., in February, 1943. He also received training in Kansas, Missouri and Arizona, completing his work at Lubbock Field, Texas.

His plane has participated in several important missions over Germany.

Pfc. Raymond B. Willett, formerly at Camp Beale, Calif., is receiving his mail via San Francisco APO No. 96.

Pvt. (A/S) Leonard Roblin sends a bulletin from Randolph Field, Texas: "When they say this place is the West Point of the air, they're not kidding. You sit at a certain table and you don't sit until everyone else does. Also, you never want to get caught with a button open. They really run us ragged even as just an air student."

"We are on the night shift. I have from 1 to 4 in the afternoon off and work from 6 to 10 in the evening at school down in the hangars."

Leonard is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Roblin.

EVERY LITTLE BIT HELPS!

IT IS good news to all of us that a limited number of new telephone sets will be made for home use starting some time this year. Unfortunately, this will NOT mean any immediate or general relief for those people on our waiting list for service.

War needs still have first claim on new telephone equipment. To care for the growing waiting list of unfilled orders will require more new telephones and other facilities than can possibly be produced in the near future.

We're sorry some new customers must wait and we are doing many things to give them service at the earliest possible moment. We appreciate their patience and understanding.

The proudest title in the Army

IT CONSISTS of two simple words.

Yet every soldier who's worth his salt covets it.

This title is simply:

"Good Soldier."

It isn't just happenstance that so many women in the WAC have earned this title—the proudest in the Army.

For wherever Wacs are working, both here and overseas, there you find a job well done. And done with a spirit so gallant and fine that high Army officers everywhere say of the WAC...

"They're soldiers. Good soldiers!"
